It is hereby agreed between Judith Hendler and Geoffrey Cathers that they have developed/are developing ideas between them that are leading/have led to patentable items. It is also agreed between them that when any of these items become patented that each of them shall own a 50% interest in the patent. Any and all royalties that shall result from the above efforts shall at first go to Judith Hendler to reimburse her for all and any bills paid or debts incurred in the development of these patents. After the payment of these debts any resulting monies shall be split between the above parties on a 50-50 basis. It is also agreed that in the event of the death or demise of one or the other of the above parties any ideas, patents or works-in-progress become the sole and separate property of the surviving party. This agreement is not applicable to any or all ideas that either of the above parties develop independently of one another.

It is agreed this Friday of August 8, 1997
