Dear Sirs:

Joint patent PDNO. 1094627

Agilent Technologies, Inc. wishes to notify you that as part of the strategic realignment of the businesses of Hewlett-Packard Company (HP) to create two independent companies, HP transferred its measurements businesses comprising HP's Test and Measurements Organisation, Medical Products Group, Semiconductor Products Group and Chemical Analysis Group into a new company called Agilent Technologies, Inc. (Agilent). Agilent will continue to design, manufacture and sell components, equipment systems and services for use in a variety of applications. Agilent was demerged from HP with effect from 1 November 1999. As part of the demerger, HP agreed to transfer its interest in certain patents to Agilent.

We are contacting Ford Motor Company (Ford) because you jointly own the patent(s) and patent application(s) set out in the annex to this letter (the Patents) with HP. This letter serves to notify you of, and solicit your written consent to, the assignment by HP of its interest in the Patents to Agilent.

Please indicate Ford's consent to the assignment by HP of its interest in the Patents, and any patent application or granted patent in any country that (i) claims priority from the Patents; or (ii) forms the basis of a priority claim for any of the Patents, to Agilent by countersigning at the bottom of this letter. Please fax a copy of the signed consent to Gail Crawford at +44 20 7832 7001 as soon as possible, and in any event no later than 22 January 2003 and return the original signed consent in the enclosed envelope at your earliest convenience.
