Centre National de Recherche Scientifique ("CNRS") claims ownership of U.S. Patent No. 6,980,468, and at least co-ownership of U.S. Patent Nos. 6,683,815, 6,798,691, and 6,897,532. These patents are all assigned to Cypress Semiconductor Corporation, or its former wholly owned subsidiary, Silicon Magnetic Systems, Inc. (a/k/a Silicon Magnetic Systems).

Kamel Ounadjela is the sole named inventor of U.S. Patent No. 6,980,468 and a joint inventor of U.S. Patent Nos. 6,683,815; 6,798,691; and 6,897,532.

At the time patent applications for the above-identified patents were filed in the United States Patent and Trademark Office, Kamel Ounadjela was employed full-time by CNRS as a researcher. Pursuant to Article L.611-7 et R 611-12 of the French Intellectual Property Code, the inventions of an official or civil servant in the performance either of his duties including an inventive mission corresponding to his attributions, or studies or research expressly assigned to him, belong to the public entity for which he conducted those duties, studies or research. Accordingly, by operation of French law, all of Mr. Ounadjela's inventions that he made while employed by CNRS are owned by CNRS.

Respectfully submitted,
