Dear Walter:

In reviewing the Consulting Agreement dated as of August 17, 1997 (the "Consulting Agreement"), by and between the undersigned ("Stage III") and FloDesign, Inc. ("FloDesign"), we have determined that certain clarifications should be made regarding your actual start date, where your services are to be provided to Stage III and our lack of interest in participating in your existing tank project for General Dynamics.

Therefore, we propose the following modifications to the Consulting Agreement for your approval:

1. Commencement of Term. The reference to "November 17" in Paragraph 2 of the Consulting Agreement is hereby replaced with the date "August 17."
2. Location Where Services will be Provided; Tank Project. The following shall be added at the end of Paragraph 1 of the Consulting Agreement in lieu of the last sentence thereof:

"All consulting services to be provided by Press hereunder shall be in the San Diego, California vicinity, unless the Company agrees in writing otherwise. Press shall not use any of the Company's resources or assets when allocating

CONSULTING AGREEMENT

CONSULTING AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), dated as of August 17, 1997, by and between Stage III Technologies, L.C., a Florida limited liability company (the "Company"), its principal place of business at 6005 Las Vegas Boulevard, South, Las Vegas, Nevada 89119, and FloDesign, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation ("Consultant"), its principal place of business at 40 Grove Street, Woburn, Massachusetts 01895.

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, Consultant is a party to certain agreements with the Company pursuant to which Consultant has provided research, development and other services to the Company in connection with certain projects; and

WHEREAS, the parties hereto desire to terminate such agreements and to establish the relationship between the Company, Consultant and Walter M. Presz, Jr. ("Presz") in this Agreement and the Operating Agreement (defined herein);

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and mutual covenants contained herein and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and adequacy of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto hereby agree as follows:

1. Retention as Consultant and Duties. During the Term (as defined in paragraph 2 hereof), Consultant shall provide the services of Presz to provide research and development services for the Company with respect to the development of new technologies, products and inventions. Consultant shall provide Presz' consulting services to the Company on an exclusive full-time basis; provided, however, that Presz may allocate approximately 40 hours per month to complete existing projects described on Schedule A attached hereto, to continue related projects at Western New England College, and for other unrelated personal matters. All consulting activities under this Agreement shall be performed by Presz, and Consultant and Presz shall not engage any other person to perform such activities without the Company's prior consent. Consultant will ensure that Presz will confer with the Company from time to time with respect to the activities performed and to be performed under this Agreement. In connection with the services rendered hereunder, the Company shall appoint Presz as Executive Vice President - New Product Development of the Company to serve in such capacity during the Term. The principal location of Presz' consulting services shall be in the San Diego, California vicinity, although Presz understands and agrees that he may be required to undertake reasonable travel assignments.

2. Term. The term of this Agreement (the "Term") shall commence on November 17, 1997 and shall continue for a period of two years, unless sooner terminated in accordance with the provisions hereof.

3. Compensation. During the Term, the Company shall pay Consultant, in connection with its retention as a consultant to the Company hereunder, an hourly fee for every hour of services performed by Consultant (or a pro-rated amount for every portion of an hour of services performed by Consultant) pursuant to paragraph 1 of $200 per hour (the "Consulting Fee") up to a maximum of $400,000 per annum; payable in equal monthly installments in arrears on the last day of each month. The Company shall reimburse Presz for all reasonable, authorized expenses incurred by him (including disbursements) in the performance of his duties hereunder, upon submission to the Company of written evidence of his incurrence of such expenses. The Company will further reimburse Presz for expenses incurred by him for housing in the San Diego, California vicinity, but not to exceed $2,000 per month. In addition, the Company shall make available to Consultant throughout the Term office space in Southern California to perform his obligations hereunder.

4. Membership Interest. Simultaneously with the execution of this Agreement, Presz shall execute the Operating Agreement with Aero Design L.C., Eli S. Jacobs, Todd R. Silvamiel, Hal Edgar and Jack Anderson in the form of Schedule B attached hereto (the "Operating Agreement"). Under the terms of the Operating Agreement, Consultant shall receive royalty fees equal to 2 ½ percent of the gross sale of every interest in any Gulfstream stage 3 hushkit sold by the Company, or twenty-five thousand ($25,000) Dollars per hushkit, whichever is greater, similar to the royalty fee payment provided for in the 1995 Agreement (defined herein), and a 4% membership interest in the Company derived from other businesses of the Company. The preceding sentence is inserted for description purpose only of the term of the Operating Agreement. The section 4 therefore, is not intended to create any obligations on either party, such obligations are created under the Operating Agreement.

5. Confidentiality; Inventions.

(a) Consultant and Presz shall not, directly or indirectly, during or after the Term, disclose any confidential information relating to the Company to any individual or entity, except to the extent required by the performance of its or his duties on behalf of the Company. The provisions of this paragraph 5(a) shall not apply to (i) information which is or shall become generally known to the public or the trade (except by reason of Consultant's or Presz' breach of its or his obligations hereunder), (ii) information which is or shall become available in trade or other publications (except by reason of Consultant's or Presz' breach of its or his obligations hereunder), (iii) information which Consultant or Presz is required to be disclosed by law or order of a court of competent jurisdiction (but only to the extent specifically required by law or ordered by such court and, when reasonably possible, if Consultant or Presz, as the case may be, shall give the Company prior notice of such intended disclosure so that the Company has the opportunity to seek a protective order if it deems appropriate) and (iv) information provided to Consultant's or Presz' advisor, agent or representative agrees to be bound by the terms and restrictions of this paragraph 5.

(c) As used in this Agreement, "confidential information" shall mean studies, plans, reports, surveys, analyses, sketches, drawings, notes, records, unpublished memoranda or documents, software, computer-stored or disk-stored information, and all other nonpublic information relating to the Company's activities, including, without limitation, all methods, processes, recipes, techniques, shop practices, equipment, test data, research data, marketing and sales information, personnel data, customer lists, supplier lists, franchisee lists, employee lists, financial data, and all other techniques, know-how and trade secrets which presently or in the future are in the possession of the Company. "Confidential information" shall also include general knowledge, expertise or skills gained by Presz with respect to the industry in which the Company operates.

(d) All memoranda, notes, records, reports, software, sketches, photographs, drawings, plans, papers, or other documents or computer-stored or disk-stored information made or compiled by or made available to a party during the Term shall be the sole and exclusive property of the Company and shall be promptly delivered and returned to the Company immediately upon termination of the Term or upon termination of Presz' services with the Company.

(d) Presz will make full and prompt disclosure to the Company of all inventions, improvements, ideas, concepts, discoveries, methods, developments, software, and works of authorship, whether or not copyrightable, trademarkable or licensable, which are created, made, conceived or reduced to practice either by Presz, under his direction or jointly with others, during his services with the Company whether or not during normal working hours or on the premises of the Company (all of which are collectively referred to in this Agreement as "Developments"), except in connection with projects described on Schedule A attached hereto. All Developments shall be the sole property of the Company, and Consultant and Presz hereby assign to the Company, without further compensation, all of their right, title and interest in and to such Developments and any and all related patents, patent applications, copyrights, copyright applications, trademarks, and trade names in the United States and elsewhere. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any Developments resulting from Presz' activities relating to the project set forth in Schedule A shall be subject to the provisions of this section §(d).

(e) Consultant and Presz will assist the Company in obtaining, maintaining and enforcing patent, copyright and other forms of legal protection for intellectual property in any country. Upon the request of the Company, Presz will sign all applications, assignments, instruments and papers and perform all acts necessary or desired by the Company in order to protect its rights and interests in any Developments.

(f) Consultant agrees that any breach of this paragraph 5 will cause irreparable damage to the Company and that, in the event of such breach, the Company will have, in addition to any and all remedies of law, including rights which the Company may have to damages, the right to equitable relief including, as appropriate, all injunctive relief or specific performance or other equitable relief. Consultant understands and agrees that the rights and obligations set forth in paragraph 5 shall survive the termination or expiration of this Agreement.

6. Noncompetition. In consideration of good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, during the period commencing on September 1997 and ending on the later of August 31, 2002 or five years from the date of termination of Consultant's services hereunder, neither Consultant nor Prezz shall without the prior written consent of the Company, anywhere in the World, directly or indirectly (i) render any services to any person, firm or corporation to facilitate the advancement of any business activity competitive (directly or indirectly) with the Company's development or manufacture of Federal Aviation Administration approved Stage 3 noise suppressors for the Gulfstream GII, GIII and GIV jet aircraft (the "Project") or any other business or project being developed at any stage by the Company for which Consultant or Prezz shall have provided research, development or other services in connection therewith (collectively, a "Competitive Business"); (ii) engage in any Competitive Business for its or his own account; or (iii) become associated with or interested in any Competitive Business as a partner, shareholder, creditor, principal, agent, trustee, consultant, advisor or in any other relationship or capacity. However, nothing in this Agreement shall preclude Consultant or Prezz from investing its assets in the securities of any corporation or other business entity which is engaged in a Competitive Business if such securities are traded on a national stock exchange or in the over-the-counter market and if such investment does not result in Consultant or Prezz beneficially owning, at any time, more than three percent (3%) of the publicly-traded equity securities of such Competitive Business.

The parties hereto agree that the covenants of non-competition contained in the foregoing paragraph are reasonable covenants under the circumstances, and further agree that if, in the opinion of any court of competent jurisdiction, such covenants are not reasonable in any respect, such court shall have the right, power and authority to excise or modify such provision of these covenants as to the court shall appear not reasonable and to enforce the remainder of these covenants as so amended.

7. Termination:

(a) The engagement of Consultant, and Prezz' position as Executive Vice President - New Product Development of the Company, shall terminate only as follows:

- (i) by Prezz' death;
- (ii) by Prezz' "permanent disability," due to injury or sickness for a continuous period of four (4) months, or a total of eight months in a twenty-four month period during which time Prezz is unable to attend to his ordinary and regular duties;

- (iii) by the Company without cause at any time;
- (iv) by the Company for cause, which, for purposes of this Agreement, shall mean: (i) Presz or any of his engineers has been convicted of criminal activity or engaged in any other act which raises ethical considerations which could reasonably be expected to be injurious to the reputation or business interests of the Company, or (ii) a material breach by Consultant or Presz of the provisions of this Agreement, or (iii) if Consultant has ceased to perform his duties hereunder in any material respect; or
- (v) by Consultant on not less than 60 days' prior written notice to the Company.

(b) In the event that the engagement of Consultant is terminated other than as a result by the Company without cause, the Company shall pay Consultant the Consulting Fee only through the date of termination. In the event that the engagement of Consultant is terminated without cause by the Company pursuant to paragraph 7(a)(iii), the Company shall pay Consultant, in lieu of all obligations hereunder, a payment equal to the balance of the Consulting Fee, which would be payable during the remainder of the Term. Such payments shall continue to be made in the manner provided for in this Agreement as if there had been no termination.

8. Relationship. In performing the services provided for hereunder, Consultant is acting as an independent contractor, and Presz and his engineers at all times during the Term shall be in the employment of, and under the supervision and responsibility of, Consultant, and neither Presz nor any other person employed by Consultant shall be deemed by virtue of this Agreement to be the servant, agent or employee of the Company for any purpose whatsoever. It is understood that neither Presz nor Consultant as an independent contractor, shall be entitled, as a result of the services to be provided by Presz hereunder, to be a member of any group benefit plans available to full-time employees of the Company.

9. Representations of Consultant. Consultant represents and warrants that neither the execution and delivery of this Agreement by Consultant, the consummation of the transactions required of Consultant or Presz herein nor the fulfillment of, or compliance with, the terms and conditions of this Agreement will conflict with, or result in, with or without the giving of notice or the passage of time or both, a breach of any of the terms, conditions or provisions of any agreement or instrument to which Consultant or Presz is now a party or by which it, he or their respective property is bound or subject or constitute a default or result in an acceleration under any of the foregoing, or result in the creation of any liens, claims or encumbrances on any assets of Consultant or Presz or the violation of any law, rule, regulation, order, judgment or decree to which it, he or their respective property is subject.

10. Representations of the Company. The Company hereby represents and warrants that neither the execution and delivery of this Agreement, the consummation of the transactions required of the Company herein, nor the fulfillment of, or compliance with, the terms and conditions of this Agreement will conflict with, or result in, with or without the giving of notice or the passage of time or both, a breach of any of the terms, conditions or provisions of any agreement or instrument to which the Company is now a party or by which any of its properties is bound or subject or constitute a default or result in an acceleration under any of the foregoing, or result in the creation of any liens, claims or encumbrances on any assets of the Company or the violation of any law, rule, regulation, order, judgment or decree to which the Company or its property is subject.

11. Purchase of Equipment. The Company hereby agrees to purchase from Consultant, and Consultant hereby agrees to sell to the Company, on August 15, 1997, certain equipment listed on Schedule C attached hereto (the "Equipment") to be used during the Term by Consultant and/or Press for purposes of the services to be provided by Consultant and/or Press hereunder; provided, however, that all Equipment shall be delivered to the Company promptly upon its request. The agreed upon purchase price for the Equipment shall be Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000), said monies being due and payable on September 1, 1997.

From: Dr. Walter Pressz, Jr.

Subject: Proprietary Data Protection

c.c. Eli Jacobs

Gary Reynolds

PURPOSE

Jack Anderson stepped down as president of Stage III Technologies, and more recently completely separated from the company by selling his ownership in Stage III. As president, he had access to all the proprietary data generated at Stage III. It is very important that the proprietary data critical to the success of Stage III Technologies be protected. This memorandum was written at your request, and presents technology/information that I believe gives Stage III Technologies a competitive edge in the market place and should be protected against use or disclosure by Jack Anderson.

CRITICAL PROPRIETARY DATA

As a result of Stage III Technologies contract with FloDesign Inc. (from 1997 through 1999), Dr. Walter M. Pressz, Jr. either provided or generated numerous concepts, designs, and/or data for developing new and unique products for jet aircraft. Some of this data was generated jointly with Stage III employees. All of the unique product concepts and designs are based on critical mixer/ejector technology, which is proprietary to Stage III. This technology/information is protected through either patents or trade secrets, where the trade secrets exist to the extent that the information is not disclosed in published patents. This mixer/ejector data is critical to the development and sale of current and future suppressor products by Stage III Technologies. Some of this same data is also proprietary to FloDesign, Inc. and relates to new concepts for product lines not being pursued by Stage III Technologies. A partial list of the proprietary concepts considered critical to Stage III are presented below:

- Two-stage mixer/ejector suppressor concepts

- F-28 mixer/ejector suppressor concept
- Lobed nozzle exhaust suppressors
- Lobed nozzle suppressors designed to operate efficiently with internal mixers
- Multi-stage mixer/ejector concepts
- Mixer/ejector concepts for IR suppression
- IR suppression with multi-stage mixer/ejectors
- Nozzle flow coefficient control with mixer nozzles
- Engine matching concepts with lobed nozzles

5,884,472	3/99	ALMEC Suppressor
Provisional	1/99	ALMEC Cascade Reverser
6,233,920	1/00	CRAIN Suppressor (MD80)

The critical and proprietary mixer/ejector technology contained in all the above proprietary concepts was developed through thirty years of industrial experience in aircraft propulsion by Dr. Walter M. Press, Jr., and several millions dollars worth of engineering research conducted by FloDesign and Stage III Technologies personnel. Most of this information, other than the patent disclosures, is confidential. Stage III set up detailed procedures to keep it secret. Those procedures were set up, in part, by Jack Andersson himself.

SUMMARY DISCUSSION

Ejectors have been around for fifty years. They have tremendous potential to increase the bypass ratio of older jet engines, and therefore lower aircraft jet noise. Even so, there have been no truly successful ejector suppressor systems for aircraft. The problem is that ejectors rarely perform as predicted. One of the main reasons is the slow mixing rates associated with conventional ejectors. The slow mixing rates result in long, heavy configurations with high drag penalties. Properly designed mixer nozzle concepts alleviate this ejector design problem. Even so, good aerodynamic performance of a mixer/ejector suppressor system is a delicate balance between nozzle losses, pumping (i.e., for noise suppression), cruise drag losses, weight, and take-off thrust gains. Few people understand this problem, and even fewer have the experience and data needed to optimize such trades. We developed key design guidelines and performance prediction procedures to make these trades! Stage III's ALMEC mixer/ejector suppressor for the Gulfstream aircraft is truly unique. It is the first suppressor that generates an engine match, has the potential to provide noise reduction for stage 3 on several different aircraft, provides an increase in take-off thrust and has minimal impact on engine cruise thrust. The suppressor concept, any derivatives of this concept, and the unique technology generated to develop the concept are all proprietary to Stage III Technologies.
