ASSIGNMENT OF INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

This Assignment of Intellectual Property ("Assignment") is made the 7th day of February, 2012, by and between Anthony Cerra ("Assignor") and Joystickers, Inc., a Delaware corporation ("Assignee").

For valuable consideration of ten dollars ($10.00) paid to the Assignor and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties do hereby agree as follows:

Assignor has developed certain trademarks, concepts, ideas, knowledge, inventions, improvements, patents, copyrights, trade secrets, customer lists, prospect lists, discoveries, software and/or writings, as more fully set forth in Schedule 1 hereto (collectively the "IP"). Assignor wishes to assign the IP to the Assignee, and Assignee wishes to obtain and accept an assignment of the IP from Assignor.

Assignor hereby assigns any and all right in and to the IP (including, without limitation, any portion thereof or right therein) possessed or owned by Assignor to Assignee, and will further assign and execute all instruments of assignment and other documents to evidence transfer of Assignor's entire right, title, and interest in such IP to the Assignee, at the request and the expense of the Assignee, and Assignor will do all acts and sign all instruments of assignment and other documents the Assignee may reasonably request relating to applications for trademarks, patents, copyrights, and the enforcement and protection thereof.

As of the date hereof, Assignor has no other intellectual property or know-how related to the IP which is excluded from this Assignment, except as indicated on Schedule 2 hereto.

Assignor agrees that he will not use (other than for the benefit of Assignee), publish or otherwise disclose, any unpublished, proprietary, confidential information, or secret relating to the IP including, without limitation: (a) business or operations, (b) products or services, (c) materials, apparatus, processes, formulae, plans, or methods used in the development or manufacture or marketing of its software or products or services, and (d) the information contained in Schedule 1 hereto, in each case as related to the IP, without the express prior written authorization from Assignee. In addition, Assignor will not publish or otherwise disclose proprietary or confidential information of others to which it had access or obtained knowledge in the course of its development of the IP.

This Assignment shall be governed by Delaware law; it may be assigned by the Assignee only, and the Assignment is binding on all heirs, executors, administrators, successors and assigns of Assignor. This Assignment may be signed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be an original and all of which together shall constitute a single Assignment.
