The private company with limited liability

INGENY PRC B.V.

Registered with the Chamber of Commercial Companies under number 52725103,

- the record of the session on 2 September 2014.

2. The Petition

The petitioner is asking to be declared to be in a state of bankruptcy at its own request.

3. Judgement

From the findings of fact and conclusions of law, it appears in summary that the debtors have come to a point where they have ceased to pay;

Based on Art. 1, 2, 4, 6, and 14 of the Bankruptcy Law;

In accordance with Art. 3, item 1, of Order 1346/2000 of the Council of the European Union, the court is authorized to initiate these insolvency proceedings now that it has been satisfactorily determined that the center of the primary interest of the petitioner is located in The Netherlands.

RESUMPTION OF PROCEEDINGS UNDER RULE 142 EPC AND REGISTRATION OF A TRANSFER UNDER RULE 22 EPC

1. Interruption of the proceedings

Proceedings before the European Patent Office (EPO) have been interrupted as from 02 September 2014 owing to the bankruptcy proceedings opened against the applicant, Evergreen International Aviation, Inc., in respect of the following European patent application:

11 727 337.5

2. Resumption of proceedings with transfer after interruption of proceedings Rule 142(2) EPC and Rule 22 EPC

2.1 By request from Nederlandsch Octrooibureau, dated 21 December 2015, the EPO has been provided with an assignment agreement between the presently registered above-mentioned applicant Ingeny PCR B.V. and Molecular Biology Systems B.V. dated 11 December 2015 executed by Mr. F. T. Hiemstra acting as trustee on behalf of Ingeny PCR B.V. The agreement explicitly mentions the application number 11 727 337.5. The administrative fee was paid.

2.2 The conditions of Rule 22 EPC are therefore fulfilled. Pursuant to Rule 142(2) EPC, the Legal Division of the EPO herewith communicates that proceedings will be resumed with the new applicant according to the filed evidence on

01 July 2016

with

Molecular Biology Systems B.V.
Oude Rijksweg 33

The Netherlands

represented by

3. Time limits (Rule 142(4) EPC)

3.1 The time limits in force as regards the applicant for or proprietor of the patent at the date of interruption of the proceedings begin again as from the day on which the proceedings are resumed, with the following two exceptions:

3.1.1 Time limit for the request for examination and paying the examination fee, Rule 70(1) EPC)

The interrupted time limit continues to run as from the day on which proceedings are resumed, but only for the remaining period (J 07/83, OJ EPO 1984, 211). If such date is less than two months before the end of the period within which the request for examination must be filed, such a request may be filed up to the end of two months after such date (Rule 142(4) EPC).

3.1.2 Time limit for payment of renewal fees and also payment of the surcharge for the renewal fees under Rule 51 EPC

Renewal fees which would have fallen due in the period between the day on which proceedings are interrupted and the day before they are resumed fall due on the day of resumption (J./87, OJ EPO 1988, 323). For such fees the full six-month period under Rule 51(2) EPC therefore begins to run on the day after proceedings are resumed.

If the six-month time limit provided for in Rule 51(2) EPC is already in force at the date of interruption, the interrupted time limit continues to run as from the day on which proceedings are resumed, but only for the remaining period.

3.2 Communications and decisions from the EPO sent in the period between the day on which proceedings are interrupted and the day they are resumed are considered as null and void and will be dispatched anew after the resumption of proceedings from the competent departments entrusted with the procedure.

3.3 Please be aware that automatic debit orders do however cease to be effective if the grant proceedings are interrupted under Rule 142 EPC (See Point 13.1(f) of the Arrangements for the automatic debiting procedure, Annex A. 1 to the Arrangements for deposit accounts (Supplementary publication, OJ EPO 3, 2015)). If, when the proceedings are resumed, the automatic debiting procedure is to be used again, a new automatic debit order must be issued.

4. Right to be heard (Art. 113 EPC)

Should you have any objections to these findings of the Legal Division, you are invited to file your comments within two months from the date of notification of this communication.

5. Responsibility

The Legal Division has sole responsibility for the interruption and resumption of proceedings (Decision of the President of the European Patent Office dated 21 November 2013 concerning the responsibilities of the Legal Division, OJ EPO 12/2013, p. 600). Please therefore address all relevant correspondence on this matter to the Legal Division in Munich, quoting the above legal file number.
