(An Illinois Limited Liability Company)

Assignee:

PhysIQ Inc.
20 N Upper Wacker Dr., Suite 1200
Chicago, IL 60606

(A Delaware C Corporation)

Whereas Assignor has previously been assigned, by the inventor as documented starting at Reel 019049 Frame 0567 in assignment records in the United States Patent and Trademark Office, the entire right, title and interest worldwide in all inventions, discoveries and copyrighted property described in United States Patent Application Serial Number 11/564,679, filed on November 29, 2006, entitled RESIDUAL-BASED MONITORING OF HUMAN HEALTH, and

whereas said assignments included all patents and patent applications in any jurisdiction worldwide that claim priority to the above application, and further included the right to file any application for patent or any other protective right on such inventions and discoveries in Assignor's name and the right to claim priority, and further included any and all other rights of the inventor, and whereas the Assignor is a wholly owned subsidiary of Assignee, and whereas both Assignor and Assignee wish to transfer Assignor's entire right, title and interest to Assignee;

Now therefore, Assignor hereby assigns to Assignee, and its successors and assigns, for good and valuable consideration, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, the entirety of rights, titles and interests worldwide and without limitation, that were assigned to Assignor by the inventor, in connection with the above-identified application; including but not limited to all inventions and discoveries described in the above-identified US application and any and all patents or patent applications claiming priority therefrom (including without limitation those currently known and listed below), and further including the right to file any application for patent or any other protective right on such inventions and discoveries in Assignee's name and the right to claim priority to the above-identified US application.
