(a) The entire right, title, and interest of Assignors in and to the Inventions; any and all letters patent that may be issued with respect thereto in the United States and elsewhere in the world; any and all direct and indirect divisions, continuations, and continuations-in-part of said letters patent; any and all reissues, reexaminations, and extensions of said letters patent; and any and all rights under the International Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property (collectively herein, the "Patent Rights").

(b) any and all rights to recover damages or other equitable relief for any and all past, present, and future infringement or infringements of any of the Patent Rights.
