For, and in, consideration of a sum of Ten dollars (USD) paid to the Assignor, and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, the Assignor hereby assigns, sells and transfers to the Assignee the entire rights, titles and interests in and to the Applications and in and to the Inventions, and in and to all non-provisional applications for patents of the United States, Canada, and any other territory Worldwide claiming priority to the Patents, such as continuation applications, divisional applications, continuation-in-part applications, reissue applications, reexamination applications, international applications, and in and to any patents of the United States, Canada, and any other territory Worldwide and all reissues and extensions thereof that may be granted for the Inventions, together with the right to extend the protection for the patents to the various territorial possessions now owned or which may be hereafter acquired by the United States of America, and in and to any applications for patent or other right for industrial property for the Inventions in any other country of the world, and in and to any patents granted for the Inventions in any other country of the world, including all reissues and extensions thereof, and in and to any industrial property right granted for the Inventions in any other country of the world, together with all rights of priority granted by local laws and treaties including any international convention, for the protection of industrial property, all rights conveyed herein to be held and enjoyed by the Assignee for its own use and benefit, and for the use and benefit of its successors or assigns, to the full end of the term of the Applications and to the full end of the term for which any patents or industrial property rights for the Inventions are enforceable, as fully and entirely as the same would have been held and enjoyed by me if this assignment had not been made.
