10. INVENTION PATENTS

10.1 Inventions within the scope of employment

In compliance with Articles R.611-1 and following of the intellectual property code, Mr. VIVAR undertakes, for the entire duration of this contract to declare all inventions of which he is the author or co-author to DNA Script, by communicating all information, drawings or documents in his possession, related to the invention executed by him or with his assistance.

For inventions that may be created by Mr. VIVAR in the context of inventive assignment or in the context of his studies and the research entrusted to him by this contract, Mr. VIVAR undertakes to:

- recognize the ownership of these, both in France and abroad, by DNA Script,
- complete, for this purpose, all of the formalities and initiatives which may be necessary in order to provide the company with clear ownership of said invention, its updates, as well as the patents and other industrial property rights which could result from it; with the understanding that, in the case of the awarding of a patent, Mr. VIVAR's name will be cited on the application submitted for this purpose, without this moral right being able to involve, by itself, any right of co-ownership to the invention.

Mr. VIVAR's name will be cited in the patent application or utility certificate and reproduced in the printed copy of the specification, unless Mr. VIVAR opposes this. This citation shall not involve any right of co-ownership.

If a patentable invention gives rise to the awarding of a patent to DNA Script, a lump sum submission bonus or supplementary compensation in a gross amount set by DNA Script, will be granted to Mr. VIVAR, the author of the invention
