(57) ABSTRACT

An ablation catheter assembly comprises an outer ablation catheter comprising an elongated shaft having a proximal shaft section and a distal shaft section, an inner lumen extending through the proximal shaft section and the distal shaft section, a distal tip port in communication with the inner lumen, and at least one ablative element disposed on the distal shaft section. The ablation catheter assembly further comprises an inner ablation catheter slidably disposed within the inner lumen of the outer ablation catheter. The inner ablation catheter comprises an elongated inner member having a proximal member section and a distal member section, and ablative elements disposed along the distal member section. The distal member section is configured for being deployed from the distal tip port when the inner ablation catheter is distally slid within the inner lumen of the outer ablation catheter, thereby placing the distal member section into an expanded loop geometry.
