NOW THEREFORE, for good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, Inventor confirms that, to the extent Inventor has not already assigned all right, title and interest in the Patent Application to Assignee, Inventor hereby assigns and agrees as follows.

Inventor agrees to assign and hereby does assign the entire right, title and interest in the Patent Application to Assignee, including all rights and privileges and all forms of protection that may be granted anywhere in the world arising out of the filing, publication or grant of the Patent Application, including the right to seek and collect past damages.
